"Good Decorating is an art, and the same principles apply before you begin to decide on color and style"—Annie Kelly

City living evokes cosmopolitan sophistication and exuberant artistic expression. A new addition to the successful Rooms to Inspire series, ROOMS TO INSPIRE IN THE CITY: Stylish Interiors for Urban Living (Rizzoli, April 2010; $50) offers design enthusiasts a selection of chic urban interiors by some of the leading interior designers of our time. With rooms designed by such tastemakers as Muriel Brandolini, Peter Dunham, Tony Duquette, and Mary McDonald, ROOMS TO INSPIRE IN THE CITY features a variety of styles from eclectic and exotic to neo-traditional and more!

Chosen for their fresh design perspectives, Part I of the book showcases townhouses, apartments, and lofts in such cosmopolitan locales as New York, Los Angeles, San Francisco, Paris, London, and Jakarta—all beautifully photographed by Street-Porter. These inspiring residences range from Dodie Rosekran's Paris apartment designed by legendary decorator Tony Duquette—which was inspired by his trips to India and richly decorated in vibrant reds and animal prints—to Robert Couturier's elegant office/residence located in SoHo, New York—filled with a bold collection of modern art and furniture, decorated by Paulin Paris.

Part II of the book features sections devoted to displaying books, solutions for kitchens of all sizes, entertaining with pizzazz, along with a Designer Directory, offers readers practical, yet stylish, design solutions. For anyone who loves interior design, ROOMS TO INSPIRE IN THE CITY is a must-have guide to designing living spaces with panache.

About the Author and Photographer: Annie Kelly has authored many books, including the Rooms to Inspire series, and writes a book column for 1stdibs.com. She is also the editor-in-chief of the New York Observer Home magazine. Photographer Tim Street-Porter is the photographer & author of numerous books, including L.A. Modern and Casa San Miguel.
